A Day to Be Remembered by the Guttenburg Bookies.

NURSERY STUD TO BE SOLD.

Growing Surprise and Final Paralyzing of a Stable Boy.

Yesterday was a day that will long be re-numbered by the bookmakers at the Guttenburg track. Nearly every one of them was a heavy loser, and it is estimated that a sum amounting to nearly $50,000 was taken from the ring by those clever speculators who are known as "handicappers." These gentlemen, led by George Wheelock and one or two other prominent plungers, make careful note of the running of the horses day by day, and then taking the day's programme, adjust the post-bilities on each horse according to his past per-formances and present weights.

In this way they figured out that Macauley was a cinch in the first race, and they played t accordingly. Macanley won easily, and a load of money was taken out of the ring. Tom Daly was figured out a sure winner and he was backed from 12 to 1 to 3 to 1. Again the andicappers won, and then Hen Harrison was made the medium of a tremendous plungs. Big bookmakers, such as Ike Thompson, G. Walbaum, Sol Licatenstein, Archie Collins and Husband and Son Held for Her couldn't lose and laid up against Ben Harrison to the extent of thousands of dollars. Again he handleappers won.

Wheelook won a big roll of money, it is said, and Sol Lishtenstein was the heaviest loser among the bookies, his losses figuring up to $8,000. Walbrum lost a pile, as did others mentioned above. It was truly a red letter day the history of the bookies.

Starter Caldwell was notified by the Coney aland Jockey Club yesterday that he would be expected to serve as starter at the Club's Spring and Fall meetings. Mr. Calidwell will probably officiate at all tracks save Linden and Brighton.
